NEWS BRIEFS

Once again the county-wide jury pool legislation is being challenged. A bill of declaratory judgement was filed on Feb. 18, 1997 in the Circuit Court of Coffee County. It asks that, upon a final hearing, that the court declare the act unconstitutional and require the Administrative Office of Court to return to the prior procedure for drawing jury venires from two separate pools. The action was filed on behalf of Larry Pope, Billy Ray Farris and James Keith Johnson represented by attor-neys Jeff W. Kelly, Paul A. Young and J. Stafford Pittman,

Jr. respectively. **********

A bill for declaratory judge-ment has been filed with the Circuit Court of Coffee County by Richard J. Spurlin, an Elba attorney, on behalf of Theresa Miller. The bill asks that upon a final hearing, the court declare the 1907 Act which divides Coffee County, Alabama, into two divisions null and void. Further, upon final hearing, require the Administrative Office of Courts to select juries, petit and grand, from Coffee County as a whole and require that all sessions of court be held at the only legally mandated court-house which is located in Elba.

National Security will be 50 years old this year! Wonder if the found ers had any idea in 1947 that the company would be anywhere as large as it is today? As part of their birthday celebration, the insurance companies are sponsoring the Rodgers & Hammerstein musical "Some Enchanted Evening" in Elba on the night of March 21st. The event is free to the public and will be performed at the Elba High School auditorium. See you there! By the way ... an added attraction will be a piano concert by the Rainer Twins of Opp, 15 minutes before the opening curtain. Those who have heard these talented ladies throughout the years know their performance will be a treat within itself.

Last week we wrote about the proposed legislative member lifetime health insurance bill. On the day of publication, a House committee killed one version of the bill, but the Senate version is still alive. Representative Garreth Moore called Thursday morning to make clear his opposition to the bill. He admitted it is still alive, but described the bill as being in very poor health. We hope so, and salute the House committee which sentenced the idea to a deep grave.

Bad weather was making the news during the past several days. Tomadoes, floods, etc. have been hitting all around, but missing this particular part of paradise. We know the damage which can be caused by tornadoes, but thankfully have not experienced the death and destruction at the magnitude of those folks in Arkansas. The flooding can be identified with also, ours qualified up there with everything since Noah sent out the dove to find a green leaf. Elba folks often mention a feeling of horror when the TV news flashes pictures of someone's home cents go? Apparently, to other states most adversely impacted have banded being flooded. We understand fully.

Tuesday the U.S. Senate failed by one vote to pass a balance budget amendment. Both Senators Richard Shelby and Jeff Sessions issued statements expressing their disappointment that the measure failed. Shelby noted there were many broken promises by Democrats who had promised to support the bill but when the pressure was on, followed

While on the Washington subject, we must clear up a personal matter. Both Shelby and Sessions have press secretaries with the last name of Cox ... Laura Cox has been with Shelby for several years, while newly elected Sessions named John Cox to his press secretary position. Neither of them will claim any kin to their namesakes in Elba, so don't hold any of our shortcomings against the senators.

There are two more lawsuits over the courthouses in Coffee County. The first again attacks the one countywide jury deal. It was thrown out of court the last time on a technical point, so we don't know what the ultimate decision will be on that matter. We find good lawyers arguing both sides and each side is convencing to our simple understanding of the law. The second suit is over the duel courthouse system itself. It claims the system is null and void and asks the court to put all the court business back in the only legal courthouse ... Elba. We doubt this one will get anywhere because it is apparently mixing apples with oranges. The lawsuit contends a 1909 legislative act made null and void a 1907 constitutional amendment. That just can't happen ... period. Only a vote of the people can change the state constitution.

Cooperation

There is a great lesson to be learned from observing the ant. These little creatures can teach us more about cooperation than most anything else can. Have you ever noticed the togetherness of the ant? They do not survive Jone, but they work in a coop-spirit, even in the gathering of their food You watch the ant when he finds a big crumb. He'll go all the way back to the ant hill and tell the other ants that a big crumb has been found. Then he'll lead them back to where the crumb is. If you watch them you won't know who's the boss, you don't know which ant is telling the other ant what to do or not to do. Just watch them, you'll see one ant get behind, an other one will get in front, two will get on the sides, and they'll drag that crumb all the way back to the ant hill so that all the ants can get some of the crumb. You never hear the fussing and arguing, talking about this is my crumb, or I pulled the most, or don't anybody touch it till I get mine first They work in a coop-spirit. We need to learn this lesson of cooperation. N man is an island, no man can stand alone, I need you and you need me, and we all need God. Many times we fool ourselves into thinking that we ca make it on our own, that I'm the captain of my own soul, I can master r own fate, no, no, no. Everybody needs somebody. The strength of the wolf is not in the wolf. The strength of the wolf is in the pack. They gather their strength from being together. Just as the wolf draws his strength from being together, so does the church and God's people. We are a fellowship bringing the power of Jesus Christ into this city, into this county, into this state, into this nation, into this world. We must not allow those who would have us fail, to disrupt the spiritual community. We have Christ at the center, and he is the cure for the evils of this world. Not only am I my brother's keeper, but I am also my brother's brother. We need the spirit of cooperation, and let it begin first at the church.

and also competed in girl's athletics at Elba High School in volleyball, bas-ketball and softball, This year she still competed in all three sports, but did give up band, which at least gave her a little time at home to do her home-work and sleep. Well, last week she tried out for cheerleader and was named the co-captain of the junior high cheerleading squad. That means that next school year she will be cheering for the junior team in football and basketball, while at the same time still competing in volleyball, basketball and softball. If she survives the hectic schedule and keeps her grades up, it looks like a busy ninth grade year ahead.

A.R.P.A. TOURNAMENTS PROVIDE EXCITEMENT

The Elba Department of Parks and Recreation hosted the District 8 Bas three divisions of last weekend's A.R.P.A. District 8 Basketball Tourketball Tournaments in Girl's 12 and Under, Boy's 12 and Under, and Girl's 10 and Under, last weekend, and after a shaky start pulled off the teams being eliminated in semifinal ournaments without a hitch. The tourney was scheduled to be held in the action. high school gym and the physical education gym at Elba High School; however, the warm, muggy weather caused condensation in the physical ed gym and made the rubber court un-playable. Supt. Charles Pearce came to the rescue of the recreation department by allowing the games scheduled for the P.E. gym to be played at the gym in the Elba Elementary School, and aflights of all three teams: ter some last-minute moving of chairs and equipment, all the games were held on time and the hundreds of visitors to Elba bragged about the beautiing round bye in the Girl's 10 and ful schools and gyms in which the games were played. It got off to a shaky start, but once the tournament got started it was smooth sailing.

Elba had three All-Star teams in the tournaments and all three made it to the semifinal round before being ousted. The two girl's teams competed, tual champion Geneva 26-6. despite having leagues only one year, and made solid showings in both age divisions. The "10 and Under Girls" owned early leads twice against eventual champion Geneva before being defeated, while the "12 and Under opening stanza as Ayonna Proctor lit Girls" claimed a big win over Opp in the opening round, but were also ousted by eventual champ, and defending state champ, Geneva, in semifinal action. The "12 and Under Boys" eliminated rival New Brockton in opening of the half and pulled away for the round action, but like the other Elba teams fell in the semifinals, this time to 26-6 win. Enterprise. The Elba teams were all huge under-dogs in the tournaments, out played hard and showed everyone in attendance that the Elba leagues Proctor 5 and Ashley Gibson 1. Also are indeed doing their jobs to teach the youngsters the basics of basketball. playing for the Elba All-Stars were Lacy Carlisle, Allison Brunson

NO SURPRISES AT STATE PREP FINAL 4

It was business as expected at the Alabama High School Athletic Association's "Final 4" last week in Birmingham, with the favorites claiming titles in all classifications. The biggest favorites were West End and Butler, in Class 6A; and Eufaula in 5A girls, and all three made it look easy. The site of the tournament kept many area fans from making the trip, but it made little difference as over 12,000 fans packed the Civic Center for the 6A finals. It looks like the "Final 4" are in Birmingham to stay.

Daleville made it to the "Final 4" in the 4A ranks and saw its dream of tournament with an impressive 26winning the state title go up in smoke, as a desperation 80-foot shot at the buzzer, in overtime, tied the score and allowed Alexandria to stay alive, and later win the wildest game of the entire week. Daleville was winning by three-points with 1.1 seconds left on the clock in the first overtime and had the solution of the clock in the first overtime and had the solution of the clock in the first overtime and had the solution of the clock in the semifinals as they fell to eventual champion Geneva to its. It looks like all three Coffee County schools have decided not to have an organized spring football training. The schools have their players lifting weights and doing some running; however, there will be no real spring practice and no jamborees. The times they are a changing. If you like high school baseball and softball, the folks at the Elba Department of Parks and Recreation will be glad to see'ya soon, as both Elba and Zion Chapel are playing all their home games at Legion Field, while both school's girls softball teams will be playing at Hawkins-Williams Park. Area fans won't have to drive far to see plenty of prep action.
